their food and relax (which is a primary pastime in Maldives) on their jolies and ondolies (the wo-ven chairs) and of course play football. The population of the island is about 400, and the famous Maldivian hospitality will soon become apparent as you will be greeted by many friendly faces. The tour is about one hour long and we ask that you please observe the dress code as detailed in the A-Z compendium.

Kudafari Island by Speedboat

The island has no cars, and they are trying to ban all motorised vehicles and use only bicycles. The streets are shaded streets with beautiful old trees. They manage their island beautifully, with a sustainable management programme for their waste and have a coral regeneration programme organised by the women of the island. There is a delightful beach side café that serves delicious BBQ fish. We ask that you please observe the dress code as detailed in the A-Z compendium.
